Blaine Had No Authority To Remove Sheriff From Office, High Court Rules

Governor's Order Discharging Sheriff Rodd is Annulled by Tribunal

GOVERNOR IS REPROVED

Court Also Censures Judge A. H. Reid for Discussing Case in Public

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison—Gov. John J. Blaine's action in ousting Hans Rodd, sheriff of Oneida county, for disobeying his pardon for Peter Christ, lumberjack labor leader, was annulled by the Wisconsin Supreme court Tuesday.

Christ's conviction was for civil contempt, which is not open to pardon, the decision of the court held.

Justice Eschweiler was the only judge dissenting. He held that the conviction was for criminal contempt and the governor's action therefore legal.

Peter Christ was pardoned by Blaine last December, ten days before a four month's sentence for contempt of court passed by Circuit Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau was finished. Sheriff Rodd refused to obey the pardon order and held Christ the remainder of the sentence.

"In refusing to release Christ, the sheriff was doing his official duty," the high court's decision, read by Justice Owen, declared.

The governor issued an order of removal from office against Rodd and appointed Charles Amundsen successor, but Rodd refused to vacate and began certiorari proceedings to have the governor's order vacated.

ORDER IS VACATED

The governor's order was Tuesday "vacated, annulled and set aside."

The governor's intrusion into the judicial field was repudied by the decision, which declared that "no department may encroach on the prerogatives of the others."

The court upheld Sheriff Rodd in his refusal to obey the governor stating that "as the governor did not have the power to pardon Christ it remained the duty of the sheriff to retain him in custody under the commitment of the court. In refusing to discharge him he was thus performing his duty."

Rodd will hold his office as sheriff until the end of his term as a result of the court action.

The court severely censured Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau for making an address before the Rock County Bar association while justices of the tribunal were present, attacking Gov. Blaine for his action in pardoning Christ.

REID IS CENSURED

"This action of Judge Reid is condemned by canons of ethics," the court says, adding that "we cannot but feel that an intensity of conviction that the power claimed by the governor was without justification in law and disastrous in its consequences lead him into this indiscretion."

The essence of the opinion, one of the most lengthy ever filed is that the governor can remove an official from office only for a cause, and that cause for removal was not shown by the executive in ordering Sheriff Rodd removed inasmuch as the prisoner he refused to release on the governor's pardon had been sentenced to jail for civil contempt of court. The civil contempt is not pardonable, the court held.

ENDS LONG FIGHT

This decision of the supreme court settled the controversy that resulted in the governor's pardoning Christ on Oct. 26, 1921 four days before his sentence expired. Judge Reid, following the executive action, ordered Sheriff Rodd to hold the prisoner in custody in spite of Gov. Blaine's orders.

Acting on these instructions Christ was removed by the sheriff from the Langlade county jail, where he had been lodged and taken back to the Oneida county jail where he was held until his time was served.

Charges were filed by the governor and a hearing held Nov. 23 alleging bad faith on the part of the sheriff and disobedience to a superior officer. On Dec. 12, as a result of this hearing, Governor Blaine signed an order removing Sheriff Rodd from office, and appointed Charles Amundsen as sheriff.

The decision today, upheld the sheriff in all of his pleadings before the court maintaining that the governor was without his power in his attempt to pardon Kreiss.

RUSS DEMAND JAPS LEAVE GENOA PARLEY

Soviet Representative Throws Bombshell Into Europe Conference

Genoa—Protests against the presence of Japan at Genoa was raised at the economic conference's first political committee meeting Tuesday afternoon by George Tchitcherine, head of the Russian delegation.

Count Ishii of the Japanese delegation retorted that Japan was here to stay, whether Tchitcherine liked it or not.

The Russian spokesman fulfilled the role assigned him by observers as the "leader of the opposition" to Lloyd George at the conference.

Tuesday, when the conference was divided into four committees, Tchitcherine, addressing the political branch of the party, declared Japan should not be represented at Genoa. He suggested the eastern empire was not richly interested in strictly European affairs.

The demand for Japan's withdrawal came as a bombshell to the delegates. It was the biggest surprise of the conference so far.

Japan is a member of the allied supreme council and as such, since the war, her statesmen have always taken part in general European deliberations.

Tchitcherine also presented a program of the soviet government for rehabilitation of Europe and reiterated his statement of yesterday that disarmament must be considered at Genoa.

The master wizardry of Premier Lloyd George put the Russians in their place, settled a Franco-Russian dispute and gave the great conclave which opened at St. Georges palace Monday, its impetus towards success.

Two points made by Lloyd George at the opening session were:

NAME PFEIFFER AS COUNTY ROAD BOSS

Patrolmen Are Appointed at Meeting of County Road and Bridge Committee

John Pfeiffer, Appleton, was appointed superintendent of road patrolmen and 26 men were chosen as patrolmen or helpers at a meeting of the county state road and bridge committee in the office of A. G. Bruggewitz, highway commissioner, Monday afternoon.

No road building contracts were awarded. Bids for the Shiocton-Stephensville rd. had been rejected and new figures will be obtained. Letting of the contract for paving Seymour-Angelica rd. was laid over until April 17, when the committee will assemble at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Garvey & Weyenberg Construction Co. was the lowest bidder on the latter contract, asking a price of $2.19 a square yard for the paving work.

14 MEN FREED FROM PRISON BY BLAINE

Madison—Gov. John J. Blaine Tuesday freed 14 men from state prison and the house of correction. He denied the applications of 17 others. No murders were freed.

The sentence of John Bradley, Kenosha, sentenced to life imprisonment in 1909, was commuted to 25 years. The jury which found Bradley guilty recommended leniency but the Wisconsin jury system compelled the judge to give him a life sentence. He has a good prison record.

Application for pardon by Jay Couillard, Rosborel, serving a life sentence for wife murder, was denied.

Bernard Clemens, Milwaukee laborer, who was convicted of fourth degree manslaughter and sentenced to six months in April 1920, was given an absolute pardon. He drove his automobile into the back end of a truck which ran over the driver who was cranking it. Judge Fowler of Fond du Lac who sentenced him, recommended a pardon, saying the conviction was based on a technicality.

U. S. Working Quietly To Put End To Strike

By United Press Leased Wire

Indianapolis—Government forces moved quietly here Tuesday in an effort to end the great coal strike.

Attorney General Daugherty and his aides gathered all available facts in the controversy, trying to devise some means of bringing mine owners into wage conference with union representatives.

It was learned that District Judge A. B. Anderson balked at Daugherty's proposal to drop the government's conspiracy cases charging 236 operators and union officials with violation of the Sherman law.

ILLEGAL TO MAKE HOME BREW, STATE HIGH COURT RULES

Right to Make "Brew" for Home Consumption is Denied by Court

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison—The right to manufacture home brew for home use in Wisconsin was denied by the Supreme court Tuesday.

The court ordered Judge Alden Jenks of Iowa county to decide the case of the state prohibition commission against Curtis Nelson in favor of the state.

Nelson had 40 gallons of home made wine in his home. He admitted manufacturing it, but declared it was for his own use.

Judge Jenks said there was doubt as to whether the state prohibition law included the "manufacture" only of home brew, and certified the case to the Supreme court for instruction.

The supreme court sent the case back to Judge Jenks Tuesday declaring that "manufacture" of wine, even though for home consumption only, is illegal and instructing him to judge accordingly.

HIGH SCHOOLS OF VALLEY ORGANIZE ATHLETIC WHEEL

Preliminary Arrangements Are Made at Meeting Here Monday Evening

First steps toward the formation of a Fox River Valley Athletic conference to be composed of eight high schools in the Fox river valley were taken at a meeting of faculty representatives of Appleton, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, East Green Bay, West Green Bay and Sheboygan high schools Monday night at the Sherman house. Manitowish and Marinette high schools were unable to have representatives at the meeting but officials of these two schools approve of the organization and the schools will be members of the conference.

The purpose of the organization will be to maintain the best possible athletic relations between the schools, to secure competent officials for all games and to arrange convenient schedules.

A. K. Vincent of the Appleton acted as chairman of the meeting and L. C. Rasey was secretary. Mr. Rasey was elected temporary chairman to arrange for a meeting to be held at the Sherman house on May 8 when F. S. Randall of Fond du Lac will have prepared a tentative constitution and by-laws. At the meeting on May 8 a basketball schedule between teams in the conference will be made and football and basketball officials chosen for next fall and winter.

The following men attended the meeting Monday:

L. C. Rasey and A. K. Vincent, Appleton; E. D. Fruth, F. S. Randle and S. P. Unzicker, Fond du Lac; S. D. Fell, Oshkosh; A. O. Iverson, Sheboygan; C. F. Cole, West Green Bay; and G. A. Rosenau and H. E. Underburk, East Green Bay.

ILLINOIS TOWN IS UNDER WATER

By United Press Leased Wire

Beardstown, Ill.—The levee protecting Beardstown from the Illinois river broke shortly before noon Tuesday, releasing a wall of water on the city. Twenty-six blocks were flooded within a few minutes.

Residents of the city had worked constantly for five days trying to strengthen the levee to hold back the flood waters.

The flood did a large amount of damage, but no lives were lost as inhabitants of the threatened territory had ample warning and moved out, taking their personal belongings.

TWO HOMES BOMBED IN UNION LABOR WAR

Chicago—Building contractors barricaded their homes here Tuesday following the fresh outbreak of Chicago's labor war.

Homes of two contractors, both members of the citizens committee to enforce the arbitration award for building trades workers made by Judge K. M. Landis, were partly demolished by bombs during the night.

Bombs blasted the homes of Herman P. Regen and Henry O'Callaghan two of the largest plumbing contractors in the city.

O'Callaghan and his baby, Jane were seriously injured.

Foreign Value Is Accepted As Basis In New Tariff Bill

Stormy Time is Predicted When Senate Tariff Bill, Reported by Committee Today, Comes Up for Passage in House.

By Carl D. Groat

Washington—The senate tariff bill, the product of months of tireless deliberation, a measure designed to protect the American manufacturer, workman and farmer and to raise an estimated revenue of about $350,000,000 a year was reported to the senate Tuesday by Senator McCumber, chairman of the finance committee.

Its friends hailed it as a remarkable piece of work, designed to help American business, shielding it from the inroads of foreign "dumping," price wars and general competition.

Its enemies designated it a tariff "protecting" American farming and big business at the cost of increased living prices for the general public.

Based on a foreign valuation of goods—it is slated for a stormy time both in the senate and house. An outstanding feature of it is that it raises rates on a farm products and in general maintains a level about a par with the Payne Aldrich bill and much higher than those of the present Underwood law.

U. S. MAY TAKE LEAD IN ANOTHER WORLD MEETING

European Nations Assured of American Sympathy With Genoa Conference

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright, 1922, by Post, Pub. Co.)

Washington—America wishes success to the other nations of the world gathered at Genoa and stands ready to join in a conference on economic matters just as soon as the political stability of Europe is assured.

If nothing else comes out of the Genoa conference but a settlement of the Russian problem, if it means the recognition of a government in Russia with which the rest of the world can deal on the basis of protection for life and property under international law, the United States will feel that the Genoa conference is a success.

Furthermore, the American government will follow suit if the European governments come to an agreement with Russia on recognition.

The foregoing statements are from unquestioned authority. They reveal that America, although absent from Genoa, is eagerly hoping and expecting the nations of the world to accomplish something big. The United States for reasons of its own does not feel constrained to offer suggestions on purely political questions. One of these is the reduction of land armament in Europe which is as much dependent upon Russia as it is upon Germany. There are reports here that the soviets have 700,000 men on their borders alone. Such a standing army is regarded as a menace by the rest of Europe. Until Russian demobilization is achieved, it is contended by France that she cannot reduce the size of her army. Central Europe lives in constant apprehension too.

The attitude of America is necessarily one of official silence as the Genoa conference begins but it can be stated positively that the sympathy of the United States government with the work to be done at Genoa is of the warmest kind.

Some suggestions have been made that irrespective of whether Genoa is a success or failure, President Harding should call an economic conference later on. The policy of the administration hitherto has been to insist that the initiative should come from Europe on the theory that most economic reconstruction can be attempted by governments on a world-wide scale. The success which Mr. Harding has had with the Senate on the naval armament and Pacific treaties is tempting administration advisers to urge the president to assume the leadership once more. After Genoa, another big conference is certain whether summoned by Mr. Harding or the organization which grows out of the Genoa meeting and in that America will play an active part.

IRISH LINING UP FOR FIRST FIGHT

Athlone, Ireland—A battle between free state and rebel troops—the first showdown in the armed insurrection against the provisional government—was in prospect here Tuesday afternoon.

Loyal troops Monday night drove an insurgent force from the local barracks, which the DeValerites had seized. The rebels returned to the attack with an augmented force and recaptured the barracks early Tuesday.

Valley Of Wolf River Resembles Huge Lake

Great Area Is Covered By Water

New London and Shiocton Suffering Immense Loss from High Water

DAMAGE HERE IS SLIGHT

Ice is Piling Up Against Dam at Neenah—Use Boats in Shiocton

The heavy rain Monday night caused a slight rise in the level of the Fox river here but it still is six or seven inches from the real danger mark. Water now is within a few inches of flowing into the warehouse of the Wisconsin Tissue division of the Thimlay Pulp and Paper Co. The high wind Monday afternoon and evening lashed up waves which washed out considerable soil from both banks of the river near the St. Paul railroad bridge. It is feared that continual rise of the water, accompanied by the high wind, will cause considerable damage along the banks.

The water raised five inches in New London since Monday noon and now is flowing in torrents through streets on the north side of the Wolf river. The sidewalk on North Water st., near the Mack building has been washed out and it is feared the foundation of the building is endangered. Water is flowing into the front doors of several business places and almost every basement is filled.

At Shiocton the water is the highest in history. Almost the entire village is inundated and communication is by boat. Two inches of water is standing on the floor of the warmer store. Only in a few places are the sidewalks visible above the water. The surrounding country resembles an immense lake.

Water had flooded land a mile south and a half mile north of the Wolf river near Hortonville. In some places the water has backed up half way from the river to the village, which is a distance of two miles.

Two or three streets in Neenah, on the island, are under water and ice is piled against the dam. Telephone poles set in the river bed are being broken down by the ice and other damage is being caused.

The greatest danger in Appleton is from washing out of the banks of the river. Bathhouses are in grave danger. It has been necessary to pile rocks along the banks of the canal near the Telulah mill to protect the earthen banks. Considerable earth also was washed out near the old warehouse of the knitting mills, west of Lake-st. bridge.

The heaviest damage is being caused in New London. Two washouts occurred on the Green Bay and Western line, one between New London and Northpoint and the other near Shiocton. A culvert washed out from under the Northwestern line in New London and some trains were delayed but repairs have been made and traffic resumed.

A large coffer dam was built around the Borden Condensed Milk Co. plant to keep the water out of the boiler room. The water had reached the fire grates in the boilers and it was feared that operations would have to be suspended. The coffer dam relieved the danger for the present.

Water is flowing into the pumping station and electric plant, but the machines still are in operation.

The Halton Lumber Co. mill is closed down and much of the lumber is being washed out of the extensive yards. Crews of men are endeavoring to prevent the logs in the yards from being carried away.

The bridge across the Embarras river at Shawano is almost under water. Hundreds of acres along the Embarras and Wolf rivers are covered to a depth of three or four feet. The flood condition prevails all the way from Winneconne to far above Shiocton, it is said. The water in many places is higher than ever before in history and the damage will be enormous.

It is reported at Neenah that the head of water is constantly increasing and it is feared the river will continue to rise. The Wolf river still is going up and the heavy rain during the night, which extended far north, is expected to add to the flood. Snow is melting rapidly in the north woods. It is said.

It is said that the water around Stroche island in Little Lake Butte des Morts is the highest in 50 years. Old residents of that locality cannot remember when the level was above the present height.

DEMAND PROBE OF ROBBERIES IN WAR DEALS

Congressmen Charge U. S. Lost Millions in Fraudulent Wartime Contracts

Washington—The American people were robbed of hundreds of millions of dollars through fraudulent contracts made by the government during the war, Representative Johnson, South Dakota and Woodruff, Michigan, Republicans, charged in the house Tuesday.

They introduced a joint resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of 15 members to probe all contracts made by the government during the war. Woodruff in a speech cited numerous "specific instances" where he charged the government had been defrauded of millions of dollars in war contracts.

One of the biggest of the alleged illegal deals which he cited was the sale of the stock of the Bosch Magneto company, seized by the alien property custodian during the war. Under this sale Woodruff charged the New York and Boston brokerage firm of Hornblower and Weeks "profited to the extent of $1,000,000 or more."

"On Dec. 31, 1919," Woodruff said, "the capital stock of the Bosch Magneto company was sold by the alien property custodian to Martin E. Kern for $4,150,000. 'It appears that Mr. Kern was not an American citizen, but was of German birth and citizenship. It would also seem that he had served three terms in prison in New York state for felony and I hold in my hand copies of his photograph, appearing in the rogues gallery in New York City.'

"Apart from the fact that Kern was not an American citizen, his conviction of felony would deprive him of his civil rights. The trading with the enemy act prohibits the sale of property to other than American citizens. The sale to Kern was indirect violation of the act. No prosecutions have yet occurred."

Following Woodruff, Representative Johnson took the floor and also attacked alleged fraudulent war contracts and sales. Johnson charged that there is "an invisible biparty government in the United States which controls the real government elected by the people."

WOULD SPLIT WARDS INTO 2 PRECINCTS

Each of the six wards of the city of Appleton will have two voting precincts if recommendation of a special committee of the common council is approved at an adjourned meeting of the council to be held on April 18.

The special committee met Monday night in the city hall and decided to recommend that each ward be divided into two voting precincts. The matter will be laid before the old council at an adjourned meeting on April 18 and if the recommendation is approved dividing lines for the precincts in the wards will be fixed.

If I Could Teach Music—

I wouldn't worry about getting enough pupils. In fact I wouldn't get them at all. I'd let Post-Crescent Want Ads do that for me and have more time for teaching.

Other music teachers are using Post-Crescent Want Ads profitably. No reason why I shouldn't do the same thing.

It's so simple, so economical. I would send my Want Ad to Post-Crescent via telephone and let it take my message to 40,000 people in this locality.

POSTAL BOWLERS AVERAGE DEFEAT

DePere Team is Trounced in Three Straight Games on Local Alleys

Revenge was sweet Monday night for Appleton postoffice bowlers. In a return match staged on Olympian alleys they trounced DePere postoffice bowlers three straight games, finishing with 180 pins to their good.

This leaves the two teams at a stand off because of the 3 straight victory by a margin of 57 pins when DePere defeated the Appleton boys at DePere several weeks ago. Another match is to be staged soon on neutral ground to decide which aggregation of rollers is the best.

Most of the Appleton mail handlers were at the alleys to witness the battle and kept the air thick with yells for their heroes. The sting of defeat was softened a bit when members of Appleton Postoffice association took the vanquished five to the federal building after the games and treated them to a feed and smoker.

Silas Krueger made the high score for Appleton rolling 493 in the three games. H. Franken led the DePere five with a score of 431. The total score for Appleton was 2,240 and for DePere 2,060.

Scores were as follows:

William Kostzke 171 179 175

LOOK! LOCAL FOLKS ALREADY PUBLICLY PRAISING TRUTONA; EXPERT MAKES A PREDICTION

Says Hundreds Here Will Soon Be Extolling Wonderful Merits of Famous Tonic, Just as Does Well-Known Main-St. Woman, Who Gained Great Relief From After-Effects of Influenza During Past Week.

"I'll tell you, it's simply remarkable how quickly this new medicine Trutona began to build me up in strength," Mrs. H. Wolfram, wife of an employee of the Kimberly-Clark Paper Co. and well known Appleton woman residing at 573 Main-st. told the Trutona Expert who called on her a few days ago.

"Influenza had left me in a terribly weakened condition," she continued. "My appetite had apparently failed me. I suffered so much from dizziness and general body weakness and was annoyed by a nervous, restless feeling which prevented me from sleeping at night. Well, sir, from the benefits I've already gained, it just seems like Trutona had been designed for my particular case. My appetite is gradually returning. I don't suffer the dizzy spells as before and I notice that I'm sleeping 100 per cent better at night now. And I get up in the morning feeling so fresh and rested. I'm convinced that Trutona is just what people need to build them up after having influenza and I'm sure it will give other local people the same relief that I have gained."

"Mrs. Runk is the first person in Appleton to publicly endorse Trutona, but hundreds will follow her example," the Trutona Expert, who has established headquarters at Schmitz Bros. Drug Store, remarked yesterday. "The interest already displayed proves that local people are quickly recognizing the exceptional merit of this great tonic, which not only relieves specific cases of stomach, liver, kidney, bowels and blood troubles, but simultaneously cleanses and strengthens the entire system."

Trutona is being specially introduced and explained in Appleton at Schmitz Bros. Drug Store. DON'T put it off—go TODAY—buy a bottle of this famous tonic which hundreds of Appleton people will soon be praising.

Another week of slaughtering meat prices!
Just received another carload of Leaf Lard and we are urging the public to put in their supply now at

10 1/2c Per Pound

We are proving to the public that our predictions are true and also that our advertising at all times is fair and honest. We want to convince the public that the time to put in their supply of Leaf Lard is when the price is the lowest. We can assure you that when we advertise, we stand back of it.

Furthermore we will not have the public load up on high-priced goods when we know that the price is going to be lower. And we hope that the public will appreciate what we have done for them in this Leaf Lard Sale. We are sure that every economical housewife who had the misfortune of buying high-priced Leaf Lard will realize her mistake and will not be too hasty in the future to stock up on high-priced goods.

WOULD FORM CLASS IN TREE SURGERY

University of Wisconsin Willing to Send Experts Here to Give Lectures

The University Extension division of the University of Wisconsin will conduct a course in tree surgery in Appleton if enough men in this city show interest in the work to warrant organizing a class.

Many trees in this city and in surrounding rural districts were damaged by the sleet storm in February, and according to Edward M. Garrow, field manager of the University Extension division in the second district, expert tree surgeons would be able to make excellent wages during the summer. If a class is organized here it is planned to have a lecturer from the University of Wisconsin conduct the class two days a week for about five weeks. The training men would receive in the course would enable them to qualify as expert tree surgeons.

The class would be open especially to high school pupils. All persons interested are asked to notify Mr. Garrow. He can be reached by telephone at No. 762.

HOLD TAX SCHOOL HERE ON APRIL 22

April 22 has been designated by John A. Lonsdorf, income assessor and supervisor of assessors, for the annual school for assessors of Outagamie county. The gathering will be held in the court house and will be attended by city, town and village assessors.

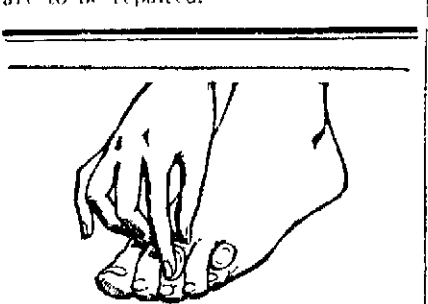

Mr. Lonsdorf expects to have a representative of the state tax commission here, perhaps the chairman, to assist him in presenting the subject. Tax laws and changes, prices and values will be among the topics taken up.

The meeting is open to all public officials and the public, Mr. Lonsdorf says.

UNCLE SAM TO REPAIR FEDERAL BUILDING HERE

Appleton postoffice will blossom out in brand new spring attire soon, for Uncle Sam has loaned his purse strings and consented to buy the building a new dress, consisting of redecoration of the interior and repainting of the wooden portions outside. Bids are to be advertised for so the work may be begun immediately.

The building has needed redecoration for some time but the improvements were deferred during the war. A conservative policy then was adopted by the government and though the walls were growing blacker no authority could be obtained to repaint them. Looks in the roof also are to be repaired.

MILLENNIUM WILL THROW DEVIL OUT OF HIS LONG JOB

Evangelist Predicts Last War Will Come After 1,000 Year Millennium Period

"Satan will be out of a job for the first time when the thousand year period of the millennium is ushered in," said W. H. Westermeyer of Sheboygan, an evangelist, who delivered a lecture on "Satan's Vacation of a Thousand Years" at the Seven Day Adventist chapel Sunday evening. He will speak next Sunday on "The League of Nations and a League of Religion."

Mr. Westermeyer has nothing good to say for the present tendencies of most people. He says they are making this age characteristic of the times described in the bible "when evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived." He says that the millennium of 1,000 years will be ushered in by the second literal coming of Christ on earth and the resurrection of the righteous dead, while the living wicked will be destroyed. When the living righteous and the resurrected righteous are taken into heaven, the world will be a desolate place with Satan chained to the earth because he has caused so much trouble, sorrow, crying and death and for the first time he will be out of a job.

At the end of the millennium there will be another resurrection according to the evangelist, that of the wicked, who will rise only to be destroyed with Satan in the lake of fire and brimstone. Then the earth will be made new, the home of all redeemed. Mr. Westermeyer says the scriptures tell us plainly that at the beginning of this period, Satan will lead all nations to war and at the close of the 1,000 years he will again marshal the hosts of the earth. Thus the last war will not come until after the millennium.

Miss Evelyn Prime of Wausau is spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Timm.

New Fish Dishes

REPEATING the same old way of cooking fish is tiresome. "Something different" is a relief.

Or maybe you always buy the same kind of fish. Try varying your choice of fish. Herring is one of the cheapest of fishes and one of the best. They can be boned and are very desirable for children on that account.

Sea bass is another inexpensive fish. This has no small bones. All the fish speaks are without small bones and can be cooked in a number of ways.

BAKED HERRING

Two medium sized herring 2 table spoons butter, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, salt and pepper, few grains nutmeg, 1 cup milk.

Have herring dressed and boned. Let stand in cold water half an hour when they come from market. Drain and dry between towels. Sprinkle with lemon juice and let stand a few minutes. Dip in flour. Season with salt and pepper and a few grains of nutmeg.

If you have a shallow baking dish that can be sent to the table bake the fish in it.

If not bake in a dripping pan. Oil baking dish and put in fish. Spread with butter and pour over part of the milk. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Add remaining milk after the first 15 minutes of baking.

BAKED SEA BASS

Two or three pound sea bass, 14 cups cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, thin slices salt pork.

Have the fish thoroughly cleaned. Rub with salt on the inside and let stand in cold water half an hour. Wash and drain. Dry carefully. Stuff and sew. Put slices of salt pork on baking sheet. Lay fish on salt pork. Cover with more slices of the pork. Add one half cup boiling water. Bake 50 minutes in a hot oven. Baste frequently with drippings in the pan. To make the stuffing mix dry ingredients. Add melted butter and egg, slightly beaten. Mix well and use as needed.

BAKED HALIBUT STEAK

Two halibut steaks, salt and pepper, lemon juice, thin slices salt pork 2 cups coarse bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon minced onion milk.

Have steaks cut about one and one half inches thick. Put salt pork in a baking dish or dripping pan. Place one steak on the pork. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and lemon juice. Cover with one cup bread crumbs. Sprinkle with half the minced onion and pour over half the melted butter.

Sprinkle with enough milk to make moist. Put the other steak on top of the first. Add remaining ingredients. Bake three quarters of an hour in a moderate oven. Baste frequently with the drippings in the pan. Remove to platter and serve with Hollandaise sauce.

HALIBUT STEAK BAKED WITH TOMATOES

One halibut steak 2 cups tomatoes 1 tablespoon minced onion 3 table spoons butter, flour, salt and pepper.

Mix onion with tomatoes. The steak should be cut about two inches thick. Sprinkle fish with salt and pepper. Roll in flour. Put in a baking dish and spread with butter.

Pour over tomatoes. Bake 50 minutes in a hot oven. Serve in the same dish in which the fish was baked.

When "No" Is Good Sometimes Isn't It Better At All Times?

A great many people have learned to say "No" to tea or coffee at noon and at night—learned it at the cost of jumping nerves and disturbed digestion.

Thousands of others who passed through that stage have learned to say "No" to tea and coffee all the time, and have found a most satisfactory "Yes" in Postum.

Postum's full, rich flavor delights the taste and meets all the demands for a hot, mealtime drink, and it contains no element that can harm anybody. Even little children may share in the delights of a hot cup of Postum with any meal.

Whether or not the thein in tea or the caffeine in coffee has begun to serve warnings on you, you can profit by the experience of others and by the information which any doctor can give you—and find charm without harm in Postum.

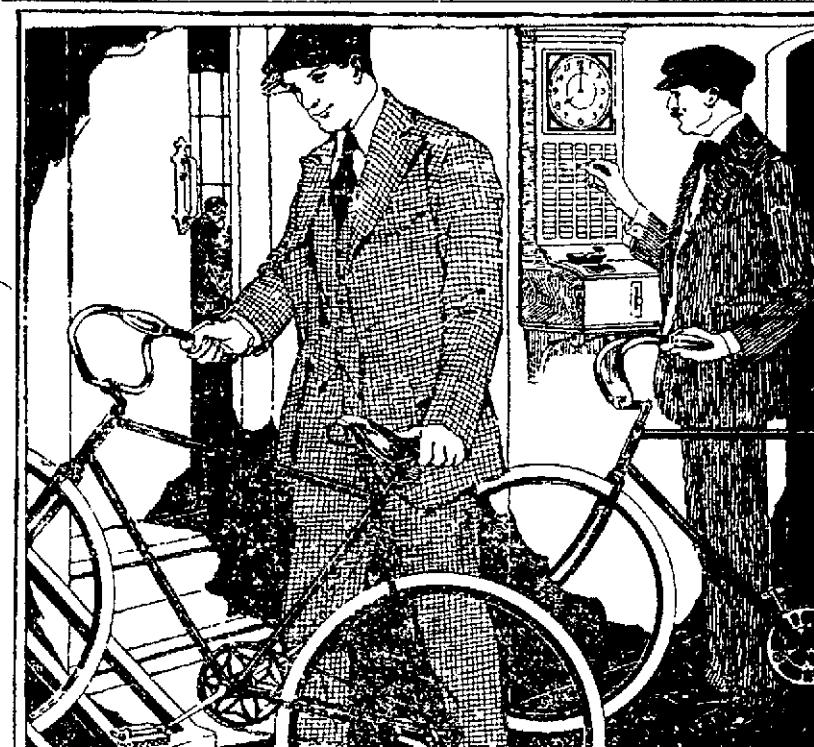

Suppose you make the test for ten days, with well-made Postum, and compare the "feel" with your former experience with tea and coffee.

Your grocer sells both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Adventures of the Twins

Oliver Roberts Barton

Mr. Crumple Crane

Mr. Crumple Crane made a bow when he saw Naney and Nick and Buskins. The visitors bowed back and Buskins presented the Twins.

Mr. Crane apologized for his appearance because he'd just come from the factory, he said and hadn't had time to change his clothes. He had on a big apron a workman's cap, and carried a large pair of scissors.

"Factor!" exclaimed Nick. "Up in the sky."

"Yes," nodded the crane. "Does that surprise you? Why, we have one of the most useful factories in Fairyland. Would you like to see it?"

"Yes, thank you," put in Naney quickly, "but we came to see where the runaway feathers blow to that come up to the sky, so we'd better go there first with Buskins. Then we can see your factory on our way back."

The crane laughed soberly. "But that's where the runaway feathers go to my dear," he said. "As soon as they fall out of Dave Duck or Goose's lander or Chucky Chicken or Sid Sparrow, or any of the birds or even escape from pillows like your friends, they make a bee line for our country, the Land-of-Up-in-the-Air. They come because they know that they can still be useful."

"Oh, well, then," said Naney. "I guess we'd better go with you at once hadn't we Buskins?"

Buskins said yes, so off they started down the road of this queer country up to the sky where they were to see more magic. It seemed to the little boy and girl that each one of the Fairy Queen's Nine Hundred and Ninety Nine Kingdoms that they visited, grew more interesting. Nick whispered to Naney "Isn't it puzzling, though, why Mother Goose's feathers go down, while ours come up to the sky?"

Buskins overheard. "Don't believe everything you hear about Mother Goose," said he. "The books are wrong."

Chapter 4—A Steak and Heartbreak

By a Bride

WHAT'S ALREADY HAPPENED

The bride and groom have agreed to retain their liberty as individuals. Jack avails himself of the privilege to stay at his club for an evening of chess, leaving the bride home alone after she had planned the evening meal. Her phone rings. It is Bart, Elliot, her platonic friend. When she says her husband is out he says he will call in half an hour to take her to the Playhouse Club.

Theories and things all considered, it was mighty foolish to gaze upon my daintily spread dinner table through a blur of tears. I wiped them away and decided to let the table stand as it was for breakfast. Although too formal it would do.

There was a great deal of disorder in my kitchen, a vegetable upon the stove, a salad in the making, and that wonderful steak on the kitchen table, trimmed and ready for the pan. It was a perfect fenderlon, nearly two inches thick. I had paid $1.43 for it. We couldn't afford that very often.

I decided that it was best for me to change my dress before I cleared up my kitchen.

Hastily I waved my bob. For the hundredth time I decided to keep my hair bobbed forever. So very convenient.

Then I pulled off my white cotton house dress and pulled on my Mary-blue crepe. It's a most adorable dress, one piece, loose and straight. I flung it over my head, it fell into place artistically. I had but one snapper to fasten, a stifle woman ought to preserve.

Scarcely had I adjusted it when I heard Bart's familiar short ring.

A little flushed with my hurry, I threw the door wide open.

Bob bowed dramatically from the hip, hands upon heart. Then from the threshold he surveyed the room. "Good!" he nodded approvingly.

"Good interior, Peggins!" So he had called me at the age of 3, so he had always called me.

His gaze swept around the entire room, rested upon me.

"You mean to tell me that Jack Madison passed up this"—his gesture included the dinner table, the lamp, the books and me—"all this—for a chess?"

I nodded with assumed gaiety.

"Your Jack gets a piece of my mind next time we meet. A chunk of it!"

Bart advanced toward my dinner tables.

Covers for two?" he commented.

"And a real steak!" said I.

"See here! Peggins! I haven't had any dinner. Too rushed to stop for it. Let me see that steak!" Without more ado, Bart invaded my kitchen.

"And you haven't had your dinner, Peggins. I'm wise to your fenderlon condition. Suppose you cook that steak—for us!"

Bart threw off his overcoat as if he had settled the matter.

But I shook my head emphatically.

"Some other steak! Some other day!" I softened my refusal in a little song.

"Peggins! The first time you ever refused to cook for me! Why, Peggins! Ever since I can remember, you've fed me on demand! Cookies, sandwiches, soup! Why not tonight?"

"Why, Bart! I'm married!"

At which Bart Elliot sat down on my kitchen ladder-chair as if my reply had robbed him of a man's strength.

"You mean to say that just because you're Jack Madison's wife you and I never can sit down opposite each other at a table again? It isn't human, Peggins!"

I giggled hysterically.

"No!" I agreed. "It is not!"

POLICE GETTING TIRED OF ANTICS OF WILD YOUTHS

"Flipping" Cars and Leaving Home Getting on Nerves of Chief Officials

Kaukauna.—"What's bad for one is good for another" is the old saying but when little boys get in their early teens attempt to sever home ties and drift into the wide world it is bad for all concerned. The police department has been busy recently keeping eyes on youngsters who show tendencies to "hit the trail" and are endeavoring to curb the wander lust of the boys by intercepting them at the beginning of their journey and giving them a real heart to heart talk. In many cases the talk is effective but in some instances a good dose of "straw oil" by a fond father has strengthened the ties of home considerably.

Another problem of the police which is even more dangerous than the "wander lust" is that of small boys "flipping" trains and taking joy rides to neighboring cities and returning on another train. Boys when caught have been lectured on the danger which accompanies this type of fun and have been warned to stop the practice for the sake of their mothers who, in some cases, are already gray haired from worry.

Chief Richard McCarty has said that troublesome boys can not be treated with consideration indefinitely. If heart to heart talks do not help arrests will follow and juvenile offenders will be able to think things over with in the shelter of a little cell.

FARMERS ANXIOUS TO START SPRING SEEDING

Farmers are anxious about getting on their land, a large portion of which is under water. This time last year much of the seeding was done, but so far this season no attempt has been made to get on the fields. From two to three weeks is required to complete the seeding and the fields are so saturated with water it is doubtful if the owners can get on them for ten days. Under the most favorable conditions it will be well along in May before the spring planting is completed.

WOMEN MUST DO IT

Every woman knows that her House has to be cleaned thoroughly every Spring. During Winter, dust, dirt and germs accumulate in the corners, under the rugs, in the curtains "an" every place. Just so with your system—it should be given a thorough cleansing, purifying every Spring. HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN Tea does the job sleek and quick. Without fail, make every member of the family take it once-a-week during this month. Can't "be beat" as a Spring Laxative, cleanser, purifier. Especially good for women and children. — Rufus C. Lowell, adv.

Gadding Hens Can't Roam To Neighbor's Yard

If angle worms in the neighbor's yard look fatter and more delicious to your chickens than those in your own back lot, better take the feathered folk in hand and give them a heart-to-heart talk about coveting that which belongs to somebody else.

For this is the time of the year when the hens would 'a'wandering go, not knowing that the city ordinances contain a warning that "thou shalt not."

Calls already have been received at the police station to "pinch" these trespassers and several poultrymen have been notified to keep the fowls at home. George T. Prim, chief of police, suggests that everybody owning chickens prevent them from becoming a nuisance.

"I wish my boy was rugged like Billy!"

Red-blooded, physically courageous children stand out sharply against puny types! Such contrasts are painful enough in childhood! What future can the undersized stripling expect?

Science proves that in most cases that contrast represents the difference between the properly nourished child and the child brought up on foods out of which life-sustaining elements have been bleached—devitalized, denatured!

You should know that Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time in food history—are what your child needs every day! And, it is just as important that every member of your family eats KRUMBLES! For, KRUMBLES contain every food element that the body demands—and in perfect proportion!

Whole-wheat KRUMBLES produce red blood and bone and muscle! They make children grow big and strong and robust; they build physical courage and mental vigor! KRUMBLES fortify men and women for the day's work! KRUMBLES sustain the aged as nothing else can! All grocers sell KRUMBLES.

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

MILLS HAMPERED BY HIGH WATER

The present high stage of water in Fox river is interfering with the power of papermills and will make it necessary for them to resort to steam in the event that conditions get much worse. The trouble is due to backwater which now fills the tail-races of nearly all the mills. All the private highwater marks are under water and several of the manufacturers claim the river has never been so high in recent years. In order to prevent possible damage the greater part of the flow has been shut off at the canal of the Patton Paper Co. at Lake-st. bridge.

LIKES CITY'S EFFORT TO BETTER RETAILING

Appleton is doing the most effective work of any smaller city for retail improvement in the opinion of Lucius E. Wilson, head of the General Organization Co., Chicago, who spoke at a chamber of commerce banquet here recently.

Mr. Wilson had occasion to write Secretary Hugh G. Corbett on another matter and commended the efforts of the chamber and the vocational school for the excellent courses in retailing conducted here.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Prosecution And Suits Assured Autoist Who Has Improper Lighting

Local Police Have Full Power to Compel Obedience to Safety
Lighting Code of State—
Drivers on Highways Discourteous.

Automobile drivers who figure in accidents caused by the use of improper headlights may be prosecuted under laws governing use of highways, according to a decision of the industrial commission announced here.

Every failure to comply with the state standards will be held against a driver whose machine comes to grief on the highways. Suits for damages against autoists violating the regulations are pending in several cities now, the commission declares, and other car owners are laying themselves open to the same penalties unless they are more careful about their lights.

POLICE MUST ENFORCE

Drivers who believe the industrial commission must enforce the law and that they therefore are immune from arrest by local police departments are sure to be disillusioned if stopped on the highways, because the commission says enforcement is entirely in the hands of local policemen, who are expected to stop every car that has glaring lights, one front light or tail light extinguished, or other improper equipment.

The headlight law provides that all automobiles, motorcycles and similar motor-driven vehicles must have headlights which will enable the driver to distinguish clearly a person, vehicle, or other "substantial object" 200 feet ahead, and at the same time avoid dangerous glare.

WON'T DIM LIGHTS

Many drivers in this locality complain of the lack of courtesy of the average autoist in not dimming lights when the cars pass each other. A driver who is blinded by glare of an oncoming car is now being held liable as a signal to the other man to do likewise. The coming man, with no glare to bother him, goes by in comfort without returning the courtesy, forgetting that his lights were the cause of the first man's action.

A poster prepared and now being distributed by the industrial commission shows graphically the field of light by law-abiding lenses and lights, and how they should look at night from a vertical surface 15 feet or more in front of the car.

Stops for the enforcement of this law have been most effectively taken in Milwaukee, where $6,000 was appropriated by the city to equip a permanent testing station. A temporary station has been in operation for six months.

BOBBY SAYS:— "Nothing Good Comes Easy"

"I was telling Dad the other day how hard some of our examples were at school and he kind of laughed and said: 'Well, Bob, I used to talk that way too, but the longer I live the surer I am that nothing worth while comes easy!'

"I guess that's right too. I know when mother buys me a suit she says I cost her an awful lot of money, and that she probably ought to buy me just something real cheap because I wear it out quick any way, but then that wouldn't be worth while 'cause I'd wear it out even quicker and there'd be a lot of extra mending to do and goodness knows there's enough of that in our home already.

"I'm going to ask mother to get me a SAM PECK suit this time. They are made so much better and of so much better wearing materials, that she'll be glad of the long rest, so far as mending my suit is concerned."

CHOIR REHEARSAL INDICATES GREAT EASTER PROGRAM

Choirs of Seven Churches are Cooperating in Musical Event

The rehearsal of the united choirs of seven Appleton churches which occurred on Sunday afternoon preparatory for the big Easter program indicates that the presentation of Gounod's Messe Solennelle on Easter Sunday will be one of the biggest music events of the year in Wisconsin. More than 140 voices will take part in the chorus work while the solo parts will be sung by Winifred Willson Quinlan, soprano, Eugene Christy, tenor, Chicago; Carl McKee, baritone, formerly of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music and now of Chicago.

The choirs have been practicing for the Easter program for many weeks to make the presentation one of superior chorus quality. The rehearsal Sunday demonstrated that few cities outside the large music centers of the country can equal Appleton in putting on impressive church programs for the holidays. The influence of these musical services is far reaching in stimulating a higher standard of church music.

Besides the seven choirs, including those from the Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal, German Methodist and Congregational churches the Matinee Musicale will also take part. Because of the popularity of the Christmas program and of the vogue which chorus programs have achieved in Appleton, it is estimated that the Lawrence Memorial chapel will be filled to capacity on Easter evening.

Everything possible is being done to correct these conditions, but the highway workmen can do little until the weather man improves his disposition and gives the county a spell of sunshine, warmth and drying winds.

Thousands have asked us for this yeast

Yeast Foam Tablets contain none of the bulky ingredients necessary in baking yeasts; unlike many "vitamin" preparations, they contain no drugs; they are made entirely of pure whole yeast

When scientific men revealed to the world the remarkable tonic properties they had discovered in yeast, doctors and laymen everywhere urged us to give them what they called an ideal yeast.

Finding many serious objections to the yeasts then available, they demanded a product that would keep; that was easy to take; that would not cause gas nor belching; that was free from drugs; and that was tested and proved to have a high and uniform vitamin content.

After two years' study of yeast therapy, in which we were assisted by a half-dozen noted physiological experts, we met the demands with Yeast Foam Tablets.

Endorsed by highest authorities

That many cases of vague ill health, commonly called "run down" conditions, can be overcome simply by eating pure yeast (such as Yeast Foam Tablets) is the conclusive and significant statement of no less an authority than the London "Lancet"—probably the foremost medical and scientific publication in the world.

Builds up resistance to disease

These run-down conditions, which almost every one experiences from time to time, are indicated by the familiar signs of failing strength and endurance, sluggishness, nervousness and lowered state of vitality that makes us such easy victims of colds and other more serious infections.

Every one, in such cases, should take every precaution to build up their physical and nerve forces, not only for the sake of better mental and bodily health, but so they will be able to resist the disease germs that are everywhere present.

Try Yeast Foam Tablets today

To build strength, energy and healthy disease-resisting tissues there is nothing better than Yeast Foam Tablets. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Nona had written of it in ringing words. She flushed in beautiful order of the enthusiasm she joined with Sabre's at his opening words of their meeting; but she ended with a sad little laugh. "And then," she said, "What do you mean, Nona? 'And then'?"

"She took a letter from her bag. 'I only got this this morning just as I was coming away. It's in reply to the one I wrote him about his V. C. Oh, Marko, so splendid, so utterly splendid as he is, and then to be like this! Look, he says he's just got leave and he's going to spend it in Paris. One of his women is there. That Mrs. Winford. He's taken up with her again. He says, 'Poor thing. She's all alone in Paris. I know how sorry you will feel for her, and I feel I ought to go and look after her. I know you will agree with me. I'll tell her you sent me. That will amuse and please her so.'"

"She touched her eyes with her handkerchief. 'It rather hurts, Marko. It's not that I mind his going. It's just what he would do. But it is the way he tells me. He just says it like that deliberately because he knows it will hurt. So utterly splendid, Marko, and so utterly graceless.' She gave her little note of sadness again. 'Utterly splendid! Look, this is all he says about his V. C. Isn't that fine and isn't it like him? He says, 'Yes, that V. C. business. You know why I got it, don't you? It stands for Very Cautious, you know.' They laughed together. Yes, like him! To be exact! Sabre could see him writing the letter. Delighting in saying words that would hurt delighting in his own whimsicality that would amuse. Splendid, airy, untouched by fear, untouched by thought, fearless, faultless, headless, graceless. Fortune's darling; invested in her robe of mockery."

Nona's laughter ended in a little catch at her breath. He touched her arm. "Let's walk, Nona."

He thought she was looking thin and done up. Her face had rather a drawn look, its soft roundness gone. He thought she never had looked so beautiful to him. She spoke to him of what she had tried to say in her letters of his disappointments, in offering himself for service. Never had her sweet voice sounded so exquisitely tender to him. They spoke of the war. Never, but in their letters, had he been able thus to give his feelings and receive them touched and enlarged, back into his sympathy, again.

He shook his head, not trusting himself to look at her. He said, "You Not I. Anyone can know the right thing. But strength to do it—strength flows out of you to me. It always has. I want it more and more. I shall want it. Things are difficult. Sometimes I've a faithful feeling that things are closing in on me. There's Shelley's 'Ode to the West Wind.' It makes me—I don't know—wrought up. And sometimes I've the feeling that I'm being carried along like that and towards that frightful cry at the end, 'O Wind, if winter comes—'"

He stopped. He said, "Give me your handkerchief to keep. Nona. Something of your own to keep. There will be strength in it for me—to help me hold on to the rest—to believe it—'If Winter comes—can Spring be far behind?'"

She touched her handkerchief to her lips and gave it to him.

Sabre had always thought Bright Effie would be wonderful with old Mrs. Perch. He wrote long letters to Young Perch, telling him how much more at the thing he had said than was. Effie mothered Mrs. Perch and managed her and humored her in a way that not even Young Perch himself could have bettered.

Marvellous Effie! Sabre used to think; and of course it was because her astounding fund of humor was based upon her all-embracing capacity for love. Sabre liked immensely the half-whispered talks with her while Mrs. Perch dozed in her chair. Effie was always happy.

One evening he asked her a most extraordinary question, shot out of him without intending it, discharged by a hidden spring suddenly touched by groping fingers.

"Effie, do you love God?"

Her surprise seemed to him to be more at the thing he had asked than at its amazing unexpectedness and amazing irrelevancy. "Why, of course I do, Mr. Sabre."

"Why do you?"

She said in simple wonderment, as one asked what had the sun to do with light, or whether water was wet. "Why, God is love."

He stared at her.

The second Christmas of the war came. The evening before the last day of the Old Year was to have given Sabre a rare pleasure to which he had been immensely looking forward. He was to have spent it with Mr. Fergus. The old chess and acoustic evenings hardly ever happened now. It was to have been a real long evening, but it proved not very long.

At ten o'clock profound gymnastics of the mind in search of a hidden word beginning with a and ending with I were interrupted by the entry of the maid. "Please, Mr. Sabre, I think it's for you, Mr. Sabre."

"For me? Who on earth?"

He opened it. He did not recognize the writing on the envelope. He unfolded it. Ah!

"Freddie's killed. Please do come at once. I think she's dying.—E. B."

CHAPTER VII

He was alone in the room where Mrs. Perch lay—not even Effie. One o'clock. This war!

The doctor had been and was coming again in the morning. There was nothing to be done, he had said; just watch her.

Watch her? How long had he been standing at the foot of the huge bed—the biggest bed he had ever seen—and what was there to watch?

"Sinking," the doctor had said. In process here before his eyes, but not to be seen by them, awful mysterious things. Death with practiced fingers about his awful and mysterious surgery of separating the spirit from the flesh the soul from the body, the incorruptible from the corruptible.

But Young Perch was dead. Young Perch was killed. It was real. He was here. This war!

He felt very cold. He moved from the bed and replenished the fire and crouched beside it.

There was some strange sound in the room. He had dozed in a chair. Some strange sound, or had he imagined it? He sat up tensely and listened. It was her breathing, a harsh and labored sound. He stepped quickly to the bed and looked and Loss is estimated at $95,000 which was fully covered by insurance.

SEEK NEW EVIDENCE IN "OKLAHOMA CODE" CASE

By United Press Leased Wire
Oklahoma City—Search for additional evidence in connection with the shooting of Lieut. Col. Paul Beck by Judge Jean P. Day after an alleged attempt to attack Mrs. Day, was under way by army officers.

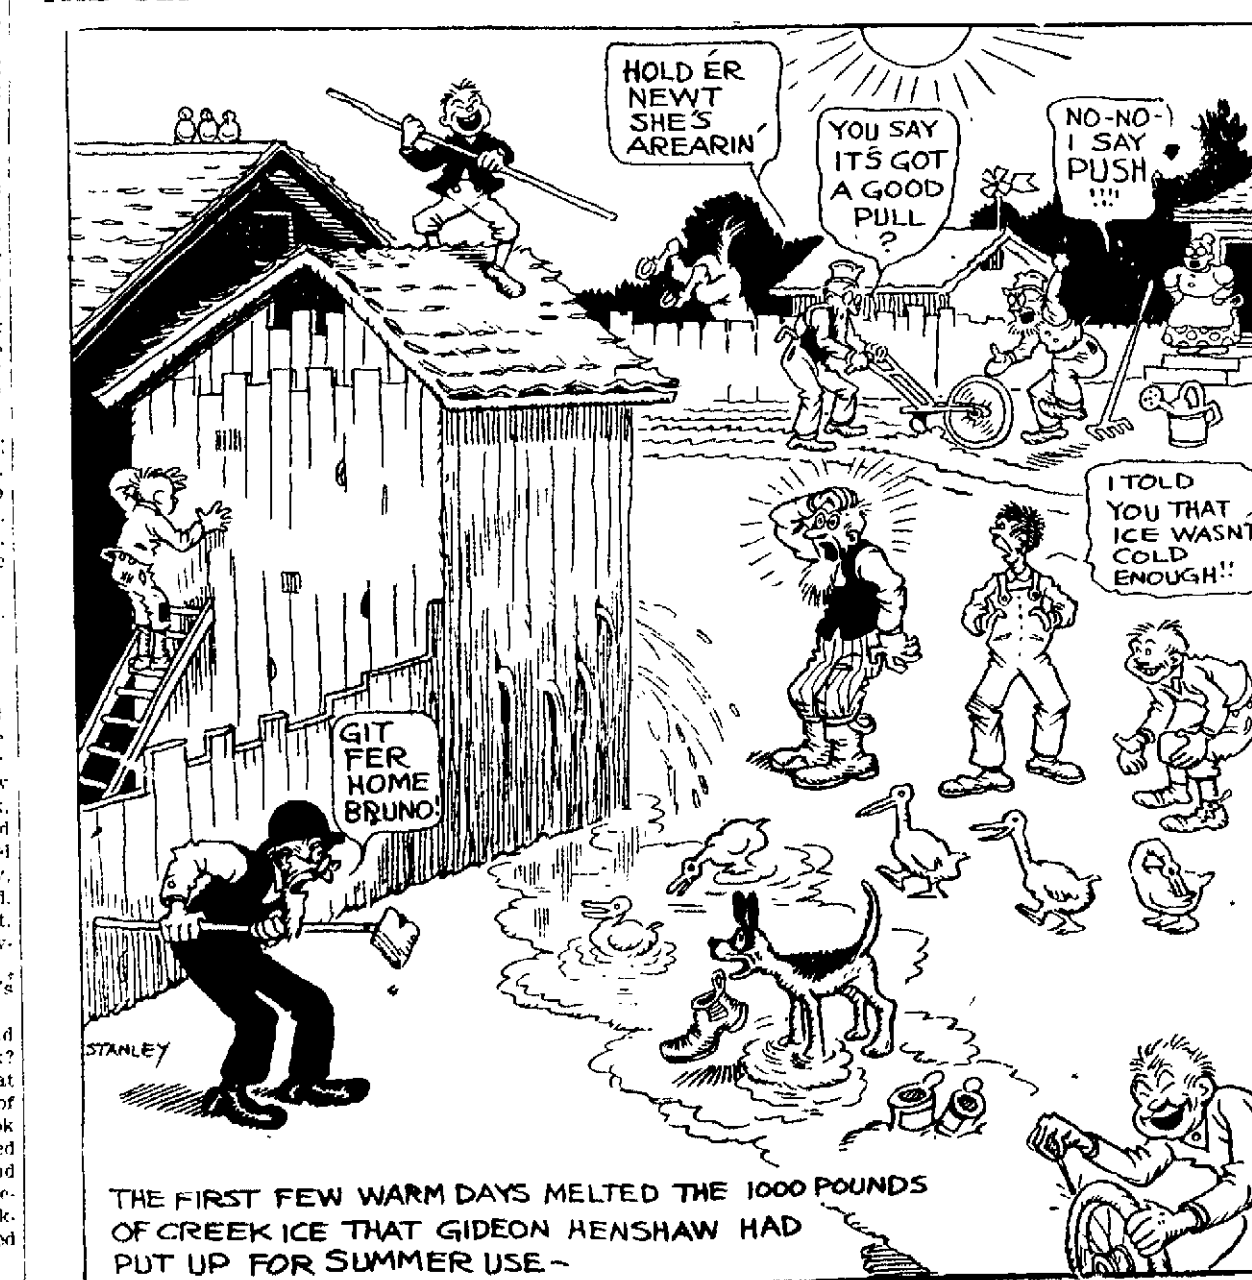

"Comrades of the dead idol of the air service were firm in their determination for further action although County Attorney Forrest Hughes and the army board of inquiry have decided that the evidence on hand would not justify charges against Day. "I do not think the evidence as represented at the inquest would justify a murder charge and the spending of public funds," Hughes announced.

At her request her nine children, six sons and three daughters, spent Saturday and Sunday with her. It was their first reunion since they celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary last fall.

Mrs. Dohr was born in Germany and came to the United States with her husband immediately after her marriage in 1858. They purchased a farm near Hilbert Junction, on which Mrs. Dohr made her home until the death of her husband 14 years ago. HILL LOSES WRESTLING TITLE TO ELMER SANDERS

LOCAL GRAPPLER WRENCHES KNEE IN GREEN BAY BOUT

Each Win Fall Before Match is Forfeited — Hill III as Battle Starts

Elmer Sanders, the Ashland beatnik, aided and abetted by Old Man Jimmy, seized the heavyweight wrestling championship of Wisconsin from the hands of George Hill, Appleton's favorite, in Green Bay Monday evening when Hill wrenched his knee, after each had gained a fall, and was unable to continue the match. Hill was suffering with the grip when he went on the mat and was no where near the wrestler that Appleton people are accustomed to seeing in action. The erstwhile champion was to leave Tuesday for Bucyrus, Ohio, to join his carnival company for the summer season.

About 500 bugs who braved the cold rain were in Turner hall to see the match. There were no preliminaries.

Hill showed absolutely no pep, remaining on the defensive the first 20 minutes. He limbered up slightly, and after 27 minutes of grappling caught Sanders in a bar arm, cranked hold and body hold and pinned his shoulders to the mat. Sanders did not have a real hold on Hill in the entire time.

HILL LOOKED WEAKER
Hill looked weaker than ever when he returned to the mat for the second fall. Sanders rushed at him from the start and the Appleton man was always on the defensive. He got caught in a wicked toe hold which made him wince and after 17 minutes Sanders clamped his legs around Hill's neck and pinned him down for the second fall.

The former champion was wobbly when the third bout started. He tried hard to show a little speed but the old pep was lacking. He was caught in one or two bad holds and had Sanders in a bad way two or three times. The Ashland man once escaped defeat because part of his body was off the mat and the referee ordered Hill to break the hold.

The scrap ended suddenly when Hill gave a howl of pain in his knee, was jerked out of place. He was unable to return to the battle after five minutes and Referee Rhodes awarded the match and the state title to Sanders. Challenges were read from Buck Weaver and Stanislaus Zyzysko to meet the winner. Carl Zoll also challenged the winner to a bout.

It is probable that Sanders will meet one of the challengers in Green Bay next month.

YANKEE BELIEVE INDIANS IN RACE

New York Players Pick Cleveland Club to be in Running for Pennant

BY BILLY EVANS
In making their pre-season predictions most of the baseball experts expressed the belief that the Cleveland club isn't going to be very dangerous the coming season.

They base their belief on the fact that the pitching will falter. There also seems to be a feeling that Speaker is having trouble with his legs, despite reports from the Cleveland training camp to the contrary.

If Speaker should be unable to play regularly there is no question but that the club would lose much of its punch. Speaker's presence is very necessary for success.

Col. Ruppert, part owner of the New York Yankees, generally picked to repeat, was recently quoted as saying that Washington and St. Louis would furnish more opposition for his club than Cleveland.

That is the opinion of one of the owners of the Yankees. However, it seems that the New York players do not entertain the same opinion.

Recently a straw vote was taken among the Yankees as to which was the team they would have to beat in order to again win the American League pennant. Cleveland, St. Louis and Washington were the three clubs included in the balloting.

A majority of the players picked Cleveland as the most dangerous club. St. Louis was a good second with Washington third.

It was the consensus of the New York players that all three contenders lacked the consistent pitching the Yankees feel they are certain to get. They figure pitching will win the pennant for them plus a strong offense.

While most of the Yankees feel that Melvin will greatly strengthen the infield, yet they believe Smith will be missed in the outfield.

It so happens that against New York Smith has always been a babe. Ruth, so it is only natural for the Yankee players to feel that he will be greatly missed. To a man they are glad that he is with Boston, not Cleveland, particularly Red Krawcheck.

Despite all the critics' and owners' opinions the Yankees regard Cleveland as the most dangerous contender.

Moila Bjurstedt Mallory, American tennis champion, is going abroad again to seek laurels on the court. She will compete in the French and English championships and her one hope is to meet Mlle Suzanne Lenglen, the European title holder. Tennis fans remember what happened to Suzanne last year on her American invasion and it is the prevailing opinion that if Moila and Suzanne ever clash again, the French title holder will be in for a beating that she will long remember.

New World's Champion Bowlers

"A team of money bowlers." That is the reputation of the Lincoln Life bowling team of Fort Wayne, Ind., new world's champions. At the recent bowling tournament held at Toledo, the Lincoln Life quintet won first honors with a score of 2988.

Starting out with 1067, the Fort Wayne bowlers dropped to 940 in the second game. That seemed to put them out of the running. They came back, however, in strong style with 291.

The team was organized five years ago and has been cutting a wide swath in bowling circles ever since. In 1919 they finished third and in 1920 fourth in the national tournament.

WILLS NOT OVER EAGER TO GET IN RING WITH JACK

New York Hears Details for Title Battle on Labor Day Are Completed

New York — The match between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, the New Orleans negro, for the heavyweight championship, which has been on the cards ever since Wills knocked out Kid Norfolk, is reported to have been arranged by Frank Flounoy, the matchmaker of Madison Square garden, to take place on Labor day in the Rickard stadium at Boyle's thirty acres, Jersey City. They will fight twelve rounds to no decision.

The bowl accommodates 90,000 people, but the maximum admission price is now fixed by law at $15 instead of $50, the price which was paid by thousands to see the Dempsey-Carpenter contest, and therefore Flounoy does not expect to pay Dempsey and Wills anything like the aggregate price of $500,000 which Tex Rickard paid Dempsey and the Frenchman.

JACK TO GET $200,000

Flounoy is said to have promised Dempsey a guarantee of $200,000, and Wills is understood to be willing to fight for $200,000 or $250,000, to land the title by a knockout.

Flounoy and Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, both refused to confirm the report, but it was significant that neither would they deny it. Rickard is said to be out of the deal, but as Rickard owns some equity in the stadium it is expected that when the time work of promotion begins Tex will be found at his desk strumming the many sensitive political wires leading into the office of the New Jersey boxing commission and beyond into the highest administrative circles of the state.

Dempsey sails for England on Tuesday aboard the Aquitania and it is possible that he will sign the agreement before leaving off. Wills has been ready to sign up any time for almost any price at all, but he has betrayed a strange reticence for a challenger with so strong a claim upon Dempsey's attention. Will apparently decided to let the public demand the match and Flounoy has now decided that Mr. Public must be appeased, although the silly night has not been disturbed by any clamor for this bout.

JERSEY ONLY SITE
The New Jersey site is apparently the only possible location in the world as the match wouldn't draw much money in any other country and no other place in America seems willing to tolerate the spectacle.

On the night that Wills put Norfolk out in Madison Square Garden, a couple of months ago, Gov. Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey said the fight between Dempsey and Wills would be welcome to his precinct, but chairman Daugherty of the Jersey commission dissented. Since then the chairman has been relieved of his job and the commission is now said to favor the bout.

SUMMARY OF SPORTS

New York—Now that Joe Beckett has knocked off George Cook, the Australian, we'll try to feed him Bill Brennan and then Jack Dempsey—Jack McLaughlin, Beckett's New York representative.

New York—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, will defend his title July 7 against Johnny Dundee, Charles White or Rocky Kansas at Michigan City, Ind., according to an announcement by Billy Gibson, Floyd Fitzsimmons will promote the fight.

Detail—Panama Joe Gans, an Jamaican, kid fought a fairly even battle but technically the kid had the better of the fight, having secured a knockdown in the second round last night.

Chicago—Bryan Downey, the midweight, will fight under the auspices of the Blackhawk and George Foss of the American Legion at Port Sheridan May 5. According to articles of agreement signed by Downey, he will fight with any available opponent who makes 160 pounds at 10 o'clock on the day of the contest.

Class Fairly Well Split Up In National League

By Henry L. Farrell

By United Press, Leased Wire
New York—Class is fairly well divided in the National League. There isn't the same prospect of the blanket finish that there is in the American league but the race doesn't seem a cinch for any candidate.

The Giants ought to win the pennant as it looks from the starting wire. The giants have a wonderful infield, a strong hitting team and a good outfield. They won the pennant and the world's championship last year and they are an improved club this year.

The St. Louis Cards look like a sure second and the pennant winner if the Giants flop.

Pittsburgh shouldn't finish lower than third. George Gibson may make a bigger noise in the race if some of his young pitchers come through.

The Brooklyn Robins and the Boston Braves look like a toss up for fourth position but the Braves are favored slightly.

The Cincinnati Red will finish about sixth or be the dark horse of the race.

The Chicago Cubs are all shot. The Phils will finish last.

MENASHA CLUB IS READY FOR RACE

Sylvester Has Full Team Signed and Announces Tentative Lineup

Menasha—Two exhibition games between Sheboygan and the Menasha team of the Fox River Valley Baseball league, will be played prior to the opening of the league season, it was announced by Menasha club owners Monday. The first contest with the lake shore team will be staged in Sheboygan on April 30 and the second will be played in Menasha on May 7.

The Menasha management today received the signed contract of George Dobratz, third baseman for the New London team last season. He will probably play second or third base for the sister city team. Menasha club owners are attempting to arrange for an exhibition game to be played April 23.

Menasha's tentative lineup is as follows: Heath, pitcher; Delmore, catcher; Sylvester, first base; Dobratz, second base; Pollock, short stop; Zeilinski, third base and Schmidt, Weisgerber and Priebke in the outfield. It is possible that another man for first base may be added to the Menasha lineup in which "Dutch" Sylvester would be moved to the outfield.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

American Association sport writers can't see the Milwaukee Brewers at all in the pennant race. Few of the baseball scribers even rate Clark's team in the first division. True enough the Brewers don't look any too good right now but if Proky Borcherst lets loose of his purse strings and buys a couple of hurlers, Milwaukee may be up a bit higher than expected in the fight for the bunting.

Tomorrow old King Baseball comes into his glory again. The opening of the season is the only real sign of spring that the fans count on. And for the next six months the knights of the diamond will pretty near hold full sway in the sport limelight. Although weather conditions in this neck of the woods are not yet quite ideal for baseball it won't be long before the thud of the bat is heard on every vacant lot that is big enough for a diamond.

As expected, Beloit college has protested against the fine of $25 in flitted on them by the Wisconsin Interscholastic A. A. The Fairplay institution claims that no rule was violated and their alleged offense of not naming the officials could have been easily overlooked if the scholastic officials hadn't been carrying a chip around on their shoulders. Unless we miss our guess more will be heard about this affair before the fine is paid.

According to Elmer Sanders, who wrestled George Hill in Green Bay Monday night, wrestling is a parlor game along side of football. Last fall, the backers of the Ashland professional eleven induced Sanders to play a game with their team against Ironwood. According to the grappler, he got more bruises in that one pigskin chasing fracas than he ever did during his entire career on the mat.

RUTH AND MAYS PICK YANKEES TO GRAB CONFALON

Mighty Bambino Thinks Teammates Can Struggle Along Without Him

By Westbrook Pegler

New York—Babe Ruth, the sometimes ebullient captain of the Harry Frazee Alumni association, which plays under the title of the New York Yankees, says he thinks the Yankees will win another pennant this year.

The Babe has been reading up on modesty and the way to command among men since Miller Huggins tricked him down south by landing him a warrant as gang-boss of the Yankee tollers. By May 20 of last season he had made twelve home runs and had otherwise contributed to the early victories of the Yankees which later made them champions of the American league. This year he will not be allowed to hit so much as a line drive to the catcher until May 20 brings the belting Browns to town, and still he believes the lads can struggle along without him.

GOOD CHANCE, SAYS BABE
"Good chance to win the pennant," the Bam admitted, scratching $255 worth of solid silver off the radiator of his $600 town car, and touching one of his tailor made matches to his copyright cigar. "I don't know how they'll do it. What do I know about what anybody's going to do? I don't even know what I'm going to do. But there's no reason why with our pitching staff and our club as it works in the field, we shouldn't win more games than we lose in the early season."

"Maybe I won't be in there knocking being runs. I'm sorry. But still none of the other clubs have got any home run champions working for them, and so the Yanks ought to go along and win just as they are."

Carl Mays, the best pitcher the Yanks had last season and one of the best in the league even if he does speak out of his turn and get himself fined $200, sees Ruth's bet and raises him one. Mays believes the Yankee outfield will be almost as strong during these early games as it would be with Ruth and Meusel at work. Mays is a pitcher who criticizes his support if the lads make mistakes behind him and therefore it is a high compliment that he pays Norman McMillan, the recruit outfielder from the International league, when he says McMillan will field as well as Meusel or Ruth, hit almost as reliably when hits are needed, and will run the bases better than either of them.

PITCHING 80 PER CENT
When Mays worked for Bill Carrigan up in Boston where the good Yankees came from, Bill, the winner of three pennants, told him that the pitching was 80 per cent of the ball game. Mays believed him and so he insists that Ruth and Bob Meusel will not mean much to the Yanks as long as the team has a couple of men in their places to catch fly balls.

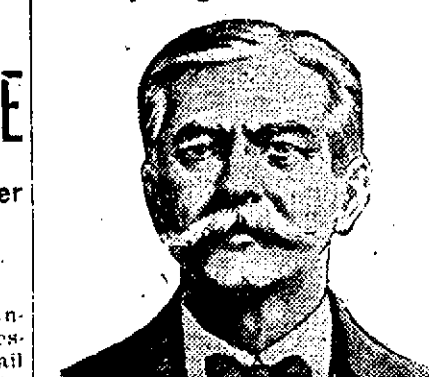

"And Waite Hoyt is going to have another great year," Mays said. "They say he didn't look well in the training games. What of it? Hoyt is a money pitcher. When he feels that a lot depends on him he pitches his best, and wins. The kid will be there when we need him. We have the best pitching staff in baseball. I'll take my world's series money in thousand dollar bills, please."

body worth taking a shot at it is a cinch the champ will oblige."

When asked as to whether Carpenter or Beckett had made any overtures for a bout with the champion, Kearns said he had heard nothing about any such proposition, but he would be prepared to talk turkey.

MR. MOORE GAINED FLESH AND STRENGTH

Rapidly By Taking Vinol After Everything Else Had Failed

R. J. MOORE

Noroton Heights, Conn.—"I am a carpenter, and got all run down and contracted a chronic cough, so I could hardly keep about my work. It seemed as though I had tried all kinds of medicines without help, but one day I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it. Before I had taken half a bottle I felt better and after taking six bottles I found I had regained my normal weight and never felt better in my life."—R. J. Moore, Noroton, Heights, Conn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the curative elements of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated form together with Iron and Beef Peptones which for centuries have been without a peer for such conditions. Price $1.00 a bottle, guaranteed, at Schintz Bros. Co.—Adv.

HIGH CLASS BALL WILL BE PLAYED IN COUNTY LOOP

Managers of Teams Interested and Getting Behind Proposed Circuit

With managers of town teams in Outagamie county getting behind the plans for an Outagamie County Baseball league prospects are bright for a strong organization this year. Final details of the league championship race will be made at a meeting of representatives from each club to be held on Sunday, April 23, at the Post-Crescent office. It was the original plan to hold the meeting next Sunday but several club representatives asked that the meeting be held a week later.

Natural rivalry of towns in a county make the league an attractive proposition. The teams should be evenly matched and the race close from start to finish. A percentage column, with a championship pennant to be awarded at the end of the season, will add interest to the games and bring out large crowds of rooters.

Tentative rules and by-laws have been drawn up and will be presented at the meeting on April 23. These rules are subject to change as the league race will be run according to the wishes of the clubs in the circuit. However, iron clad rules will be made to keep the clubs in line and to prevent any club from bringing in "ringers" near the close of the season.

Clubs will not be allowed to tamper with players on other teams in the league and each player will be under contract, according to the rules that

CORBETT SPEAKS IN GREEN BAY ON MERCHANT BUREAU

Appleton Man Says Rating System is Clearing House of Real Value

Four Appleton business men accompanied Hugh G. Corbett to Green Bay Monday evening, where Mr. Corbett addressed the retail division of the Association of Commerce on "Building an Efficient Rating Bureau." The visitors were E. A. Schmalz, Gerald Galpin, H. L. Dawson and C. E. Forsman.

Mr. Corbett's address was given at a dinner in the vocational school and included a speech by J. R. Ozanne, Chicago, advertising and sales manager of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co.

The Appleton man showed how the rating bureau is a clearing house of value both to the merchant and the consumer and helps the community by restraining the overzealous seller or purchaser who resorts to credit as a selling argument.

Essentials of successful bureau reports were named by Mr. Corbett as a clear idea of the pay habit of the customer, a knowledge of his home and business responsibilities, an idea of his character, as his habits guide his pocketbook, and a record of his residence, whether a transient or a resident.

Merchants also were shown why it is important that they make an effort to obtain detailed information on patrons when they have a chance.

Corbett also told the necessity of filling out the report blanks promptly and urged that in this age of cooperation this counsel should be applied to a credit bureau.

Mr. Corbett has been extended an invitation to address the Kiwanis club of Green Bay in the near future.

DRAMA CLUB GIRLS HANDY WITH NEEDLES

Girls Make Costumes They Will Wear in "Rose of Plymouth Town"

After going without meals and cutting dates and losing much sleep to make their costumes for "Rose of Plymouth Town," members of the Drama Club of Appleton Women's club got the dresses and breeches ready to fit only to find each garment large enough for two. Since the play is to be given at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Thursday, April 29, the girls had no time to spare.

Faithful work on the part of the girls has been rewarded, however, for their costumes are as pretty and appropriate as any belle of Plymouth Town ever wore. A dressmaker cut the costumes for the girls but the rest of the work was done by them between practices and their jobs.

Most of the girls have work which keeps them busy during the day. The cutting of the costumes have been worked out to suit the characters in play.

Members of the Drama club who are not in the play have been organized into teams to sell tickets. Given in the tickets, the color scheme of the entire play which is rose and gray has been carried out. The sports council also will have a team selling tickets and a few members of Appleton Women's club will assist.

Acting done by the girls has exceeded anything that the directors hoped for. Many of them are in their second year of Drama club and have appeared often in one act plays given at programs of various organizations.

The club not only produces plays but studies drama in order to help the girls in their interpretation of their parts.

California Plans to Celebrate Gold Rush

Announcement of the "Days of '49" celebration to be held at Sacramento, Calif., May 23 to 28 has been received by Appleton Chamber of Commerce. A letter from A. S. Dudley, secretary of Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, a former LaCrosse man, accompanied the literature urging a large attendance of Wisconsin people.

California's gold rush of the early days is repeated in an exposition lasting several days. A typical mining town will be arranged and there will be Indian battles, wild west contests, historical dramas and allegories and many other events commemorative of the pioneer days. Reduced fares are to be given on all railroads.

URGES STUDENTS TO KEEP CAMPUS CLEAN

Urging the students to do their share in keeping the Lawrence campus free from paper and waste, Dr. Samuel Flintz gave a short talk on Monday morning during the chapel hour. This president of the college told the students to be more careful of the material which should be placed in waste paper receptacles which will soon be placed on the campus. He reminded them that many people who live near the campus are also annoyed when the students drop paper on their lawns and boulevards.

Rush License Reports

Faster service is being given police departments by the license bureau of the secretary of state's office, Madison, this year than in any season past in publication of automobile license numbers and names of car owners to whom issued. Records are received at the local station every ten days containing figures up to date. Records now are on file on touring cars with licenses up to 148,274 and on trucks up to 13,599.

2 APPLETON PEOPLE IN PHI BETA KAPPA

Elections to Honorary Scholastic Fraternity Are Announced

Elections of Phi Beta Kappa at Lawrence college which were announced to the student body on Monday morning include a greater percentage of men for several years. The election includes four members of the junior class three of whom are men. In previous elections, not more than one or two juniors have been named.

Those who were elected include the following from the senior class, Adah Cleland, Owen; Herbert Mundhenke, Rockford, Ill.; Reynold Rasseuber, Sheboygan Falls; Ernest Moll, Appleton; Lloyd Morris, Appleton; from the junior class, John Sullivan, Duluth; Robert Berkleman, Duluth; Marion Beach, Waupun; Everett Hall, Fond du Lac.

Although the primary qualification for membership is high scholarship, much stress is being placed on the personality, character and possibilities for future leadership of the candidates. In making the announcement, Prof. Arthur Weston said that many more students were considered but that the number elected is limited to a percentage of the number in the class.

HOUSE SHORTAGE NOW IS AS ACUTE AS EVER

Several new families have lately moved to Appleton and are nearly desperate in their attempt to find living quarters. People are now stopped almost daily on the street by strangers and asked if they know of a house to rent or one that is liable to be vacated soon. Rent has not decreased and the demand for homes is having a tendency to send it still higher.

ICE FIELD MECCA FOR AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS

The wall of ice which piled up along the shore of Lake Winnebago early Sunday morning between Waverly and Brighton beach was photographed Sunday by a large number of amateur photographers from Appleton, Neenah and Menasha. The ice is piled up nearly as high as the trees, several of which it uprooted. The ice started piling up shortly after midnight and was 20 feet high within half an hour.

EXPECT 500 MEN AT SUNDAY BIBLE CLASSES

Special efforts are being made this week to have 500 men in the Bible classes of the eight Appleton co-operating churches next Sunday. Invitations will be sent out and personal invitations will be given to men during the week to attend Bible class meetings Sunday. The attendance at men's Bible class meetings last Sunday was 194.

Old Sign Destroyed
A weather beaten sign 15 feet in length on which the words "Temple of Honor" was still traceable was blown Saturday night from its position on the east side of the Masonic block where it had been for nearly 40 years. The sign in the early days marked the meeting place of a once strong organization that has long since passed out of existence.

POLITICIANS ARE PUZZLED BY NINTH DISTRICT FIGHT

Milwaukee Political Expert Tries to Size Up Situation Here

Fred C. Sheasby, political expert for the Milwaukee Sentinel, in an article featured by that newspaper on Tuesday, sends a break in the La-Follette-Blaine camp in the Ninth congressional district. He is trying to unravel the tangle caused by endorsement of George Schneider, Appleton, for member of congress, by the farm-labor organizations and the effort to have Elmer S. Hall present secretary of state, withdrew from the race. Sheasby figures either Hall has been deserted by La-Follette and Blaine or the farm-labor forces have deserted the present state administration.

This is what Sheasby has to say about the situation: "La-Follette's political machine has slipped up in the Ninth congressional district. So-called progressives of the La-Follette brand have split to the point of placing two candidates in the field to succeed Congressman David C. Johnson. This indicates lack of harmony."

The two candidates for congress are Elmer S. Hall of Green Bay, present secretary of state, and George W. Schneider of Appleton, who was endorsed at Sunday's meeting of delegates representing the labor and farm group, despite the fact that letters were read from La-Follette and Blaine saying Hall would make a good candidate.

A dispatch from Green Bay says Hall may retire from the race, because the advantage would be on the side of the independent progressive candidate—and one will be in the field—in a three-cornered contest. However, his Madison friends say they will urge him to stick it out. Hall has been in Green Bay several days, but Sunday's labor-farm conference and the endorsement of Schneider indicate he was unable to bring about harmony.

"There is a touch of political mystery about his case. He made a very impressive run for secretary of state in the last election, but when La-Follette selected his hand picked state ticket for the coming campaign Hall's name was missing. Fred Zimmermann of Milwaukee was chosen in his place, and about the same time it was announced Hall would run for congress in the Ninth district."

"The wise ones nodded their heads and wondered if this was another case in which La-Follette had decided to side track one of his lieutenants. Hall told close friends that La-Follette had something to do with placing him in the congressional race."

A few more shades of political mystery come to the surface in the fact that while the senior senator and the governor wrote that Hall would make a good candidate for congress their letters did not carry a definite endorsement of him.

So if a positive endorsement would have secured the purpose of keeping Schneider out of the contest, it now appears that the secretary of state was deserted by La-Follette and Blaine.

If this is not true, then it follows that the letters from La-Follette and Blaine referring to Hall as a good candidate failed to influence the delegates at the Green Bay conference.

In other words, they broke with La-Follette.

To the sideline observers it appears that Hall was given the political double cross in his own camp, or the La-Follette-Blaine combination has lost control in the Ninth district.

"PROGRESSIVES" IN JAM

Viewed from either angle, the so-called La-Follette progressives are in a political jam up around Green Bay. Disagreement of this kind will have a bearing on the general results in the primary.

Just why La-Follette saw fit to withdraw Hall from his state ticket has not become known. It may be that his chief thought was to place a Milwaukee man on his slate, and that Hall, who is inclined to be a mild-mannered person, was the easiest one to get out of the way.

And yet he has demonstrated his ability as a vote-getter, while Zimmermann is comparatively untried in this respect.

Crowding Hall out of the picture occasioned as much surprise as the selection of Herman L. Ekern, former commissioner of insurance, as candidate for attorney general. Ekern having been out of the state for some time as counsel for several large insurance companies, several of the senior senators' lieutenants, among them members of the legislature, wanted to run for attorney general, but Ekern was La-Follette's choice and the others were forced to step aside, or have the big stick come down on their political heads if they went into the contest without the senator's endorsement.

Mrs. S. E. Therens of New London visited friends here Saturday.

BAND PRESENTS FINE PROGRAM

Bad weather prevented many Appleton people from hearing the first of the series of free band concerts given by the 121st Artillery band at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Monday evening. The concert was also the occasion for the first appearance of B. F. Schultz as director of the band.

Those who braved the weather were most appreciative of the program given by the band. The well balanced numbers including both more popular and classic numbers proved a great success. Plans for future appearances of the band will be announced soon. Those who heard the first concert are enthusiastic over the prospect of the series to be given this spring and summer.

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."

Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. BAND PRESENTS FINE PROGRAM

Bad weather prevented many Appleton people from hearing the first of the series of free band concerts given by the 121st Artillery band at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Monday evening. The concert was also the occasion for the first appearance of B. F. Schultz as director of the band.

Those who braved the weather were most appreciative of the program given by the band. The well balanced numbers including both more popular and classic numbers proved a great success. Plans for future appearances of the band will be announced soon. Those who heard the first concert are enthusiastic over the prospect of the series to be given this spring and summer.
